

Abstract: In the present work we study the spectrum problem that was introduced by H. Scholz in 1952. We define the basic concepts associated with this problem. We follow its further development, especially context with sets from complexity class NE. We defined a generalized spectra. We introduce examples of sets of natural numbers, which are spectra.